NEITHER HIT NOR RUN DID B. H. S. TALLY; CHAMPIONSHIP LOST

18 of the Bridgeport Players Were Struck Out by Burrows and Westerlys Carry Off the Pennant.

Malcolm, too, was in rare form but the Westerly School Twirler Was Invincible.

The B. H. S. baseball team, champions of the Western Division of the Intercollegiate Baseball league, worn out by the terrific strain imposed upon them by playing four days in succession in the hottest kind of weather received the small end of the argument Saturday on Yale Field when they stacked up against Westerly High, champions of the Eastern Division of the Intercollegiate championship of the state.

The final score was 1-0, Bridgeport being unable to connect with the elusive delivery of Burrows. The game itself will probably go down as one of the greatest contests ever engaged in between high school teams, as Burrows made a record in striking out eighteen batters and not allowing a hit. When the locals did hit it was only to the infield, the outfielders not being credited with a put out or an assist. Malcolm on the other hand was almost as effective striking out eleven and allowing only four scattered hits, none of which counted for the home run.

It was in the first inning that the Westerlys gleaned their sole tally. Foley had gone out on a fly. Hawley, Martin sent a grounder at Harry Middlebrooks which Harry kindly fumbled giving Martin a life. He accordingly scored second, the throw from Seelye to Lally being high.

Lally let Chapman's easy bouncer go through his mitt, and Martin scored from second. Lally made a bluff to throw home to get Martin, knowing that it was impossible to get that man, so as to draw Chapman off first base. In throwing to Graether the sphere sailed in to the ground, Chapman taking third. On Dutton's hit to Malcolm, Chapman was thrown out at home. Pendergast this inning by going out short to first. Seelye had a chance to score it was given to the locals in their half of the first inning. Harry Middlebrooks walked. Burrows threw a bouncer to Seelye, who scored on the bound to get Brother Harry. Both men being safe. Lally hit to the pitcher, Harry Middlebrooks being forced at second. Burrows then Seelye filling the bases. Graether and McFarland were called upon to save the day. But alas, both fanned and the chance was gone. There were 3 B. H. S. boys on the corners and only one gone. Any kind of a bingle would have broken up the game. We did not have a man on base again till the fifth, when with a nod which Hawley gathered and stole second. Porter and Malcolm struck out. It was up to Harry Middlebrooks to tie the score.

Harry got under one of Burrows' drops lifting the ball into left field. The sphere was high. Hawley crossed the pun, and Middlebrooks rested on second before the right fielder had a chance to touch the left foul flag just going outside the line when it landed. Harry went back to bat and struck out.

Lally in the ninth with one out reached first on Chapman's slip up of his grounder. Seelye tried hard, sending up a four, which Hawley gathered in. Graether hit to Martin. Lally being thrown out at second. It looked like more scoring for the Westerlys in the seventh, but the superior catching of Malcolm prevented. Dutton led off with a hit to right followed by Pendergast's slow grounder to first which he beat out. Seelye gathered in Burrows' foul fly. Malcolm's error of L. Foley's easy tap filled the bases. Malcolm then steadily down and struck out the next batter. In the eighth the Westerlys looked dangerous. P. Foley led off with a neat single to left. He was out trying to steal second. McFarland then bled. Martin's grounder was caught off first on a quick throw from Malcolm to Graether. Chapman then struck out. The score:

Tests by Japanese experts of the movement of projectiles after penetrating objects at which they are fired have shown that their deflection is about equal to the angle of the projectile, in an opposite direction from that given them by the firing of the arm from which they are fired.

At the London Zoological Garden small birds are called to their breakfast two hours ahead of time by turning on electric lights, while in the aviary quail are fattened for market by keeping them in cellars which are brilliantly illuminated several times a day to make them eat more frequently than they would ordinarily.

LIVE BASE BALL TIPS

In New Britain today.

Northampton will be the attraction at Newfield tomorrow. There is no telling what kind of a game these boys will put up.

Manager O'Rourke has received word from Honest John O'Leary, the former Hartford backstop, that he will report immediately. He was in Buffalo yesterday being on his way here. He will be played either on first or in right field. Manager Jim says he is too valuable a man to be holding down the bench.

It's the outlaws for good for Billy Luyster. He was given out Saturday to report but has not yet shown up. Luyster has been after Jim for the past two years looking for a reinstatement through Manager Clarkin, and when the local manager interceded for him he threw him down. Luyster kept on sending telegrams that he would report in a few days. Manager Jim relying entirely upon his honor. For this reason the names of new players are being withheld until they appear in an Orator uniform. It can be seen through that Jim is out to strengthen his outfit.

Now that O'Leary will wear an Orator uniform and Koecher will do the regular catching, Manager O'Rourke is hesitant as to what to do with McAlor who did the catching while Koecher was laid up with the split palm. Mac is not one of the biggest players that ever broke into the game, but he was a worker every minute. He might have fallen down on a few plays, but made up for it afterward. In batting he did his part, his hitting being quite timely. It is probable that Manager O'Rourke will place him with some club to be recalled when he is needed.

Cy Miller is leaning up against the ball the same way as he started the season. It will be the 300 class for Cy within a week. Let's hope the youngster stays there.

George Bannon is in the midst of a terrible batting slump. George can account for his work, as he says he takes this spell about the same time every year. He has hit hard and opposite piling up the hits, breaking up many a game.

The Fairfields would like a game with some good team for Monday morning, July 5th at 10 o'clock in Fairfield. Answer to J. P. Carroll, Fairfield, Conn.

BATTING AND FIELDING AVERAGES

Bridgeport has not a regular man among the 300 hitters. Big Bill Mason of the New Britain first sacker, is still in the lead with an average of .33, a drop of but a few points from his last week's record. Collins of Springfield is giving him a merry chase, being now only one point behind. The men that head Mason are most all pitchers, with the exception of a few new men who just broke in to the game for a few days. In batting as well as in the league standing the local club brings up the rear. New Britain, with its quartet of sluggers leads them all. Hartford the league leaders, are in seventh place, one point above the Orators. We are only outranked in poor fielding by the ponies who have taken a big slump. In this particular the Hartford Wonder have shown so much class that they are away ahead of the others.

NEW TWIRLER DID WELL FOR SPELL

Murray Parker, the Pony stand-by of last season, celebrated his return to the game after a few weeks' leave of absence, by shutting out the Orators at Springfield, Saturday, 3-0. SKIN DISEASES THEIR CAUSE AND EFFECT

We not infrequently hear persons afflicted with chronic Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc., say they have expended from $100.00 to $300.00 in doctors' bills and remedies, and invariably the treatment has been external—by ointment or ointment. No consideration or attention was paid to the blood—the source from which the skin derives nourishment. In answer to the question, "Did you derive any benefit from such treatment?" "Oh, yes, it cured the disease for a month or two and then it broke out worse than ever." The reason of this should be readily understood by any intelligent person, and is the difference between the cause and the effect. The disease has been attacked in the blood, which is the cause of these skin and blood diseases, these sufferers would have had a different story to tell. Dr. Taylor's Remedy eliminates the poison from the blood—removes the cause—and the effect of this poison readily disappears from the surface of the skin. Guaranteed to cure. Send to our office, 1330 Arch St., Philadelphia, for booklet. Sold by Jennie Hamilton—Philadelphia, Pa., Conn., and by all first class druggists.

(By Edward Payson Weston.)
Carlin, Nev., June 27.—The conditions last night were not as propitious as I had hoped for a long walk, so I was forced to abandon my hope of reaching Beowawe.

Not only was the heat intense until after 6 o'clock but the mosquitoes were particularly vicious; even a fifty-mile gale and a cloudy sky did not interfere with their annoying work. The footing, on account of the replacing of new ties along this stretch of railroad, made the walking exceedingly difficult, and at times dangerous. I was unable to walk more than three miles per hour, and after a struggle lasting four hours, I decided to quit here, which made my grand total twenty-six miles less than was quoted yesterday. However, as my friends may have observed, my condition is so much improved that I am enabled to make better time, notwithstanding the heat, than has been the case for a month past, and I think that the coming week will convince the skeptics that I am doing all in my power.

For all this improvement in my surroundings I am deeply indebted to J. Krutchnit, Director General of the Southern Railway Company, and to Davis, General Superintendent; James Horsburg, Jr., General Passenger Agent, and in fact every employee of the Southern Railway. The maintenance men, and the men who are accompanying me on a railroad velocipede loaded with refreshing supplies, and the men who are giving me strength, and Joseph Murray is the very best helper I have had.

Two or three times a day the conductors of freight trains will drop me a piece of ice as they go by, and all the working class wish me the best of luck. As an instance of their kindness, Thursday night my hat blew off in the dark, and it was useless to try to recover it. The next morning the hat came back to me on a passing train.

I never felt better in my life, and I think the coming week will show that my estimate is correct. I leave here at 12:05 to-night, and am in hopes that the heat will subside, so I can put in a long day. If not, I shall retire at noon and sleep until 5 P. M., and then resume the road again, hoping to keep it until noon of Tuesday.

The only objection I have to night work is that I can hardly exceed three miles per hour. As I have already lost in the aggregate nearly fourteen days since leaving Chicago, I shall make the best time possible in reaching San Francisco on July 9 at 6 o'clock.

EDWARD PAYSON WESTON.

OTHER NEWSY NOTES
Dick Hyland's victory over Leah Cross in the forty-first round at Colma, California, last Saturday stunned the East Side sporting element in N. Y., as Cross was regarded as a sure winner and much money was wagered on his chances through agents in California. Cross, considering the fact that he never took part in a bout of more than ten rounds before, made a game showing, but he proved that he is more of a boxer than a fighter. Hyland, a rugged young fellow who has been figuring in long drawn out battles in recent years, evidently fought according to well laid plans. With forty-five rounds to go he saved his strength and gradually wore the Bowery dentist down.

It was the opinion here yesterday that Cross probably weakened himself in order to scale at 133 pounds five months before, fighting time. He found it a difficult task in recent local bouts to make 135 pounds, same weighing time, and was always regarded as a welterweight. But that Cross never was a first class pugilist and in tackling Hyland, who stood Nelson off for twenty-three rounds, he took desperate chances. It is believed that Cross had beaten Hyland there would have been a high old time along the Bowery on Saturday night, as many Hebrew organizations had made preparations to celebrate. As it was there was the thickest kind of gloom on the East Side when the result of the long mill was flashed over the tickers.

Cross and his brother, Sam Wallace, will leave for New York next Wednesday. Cross is now in California. He was knocked out and he drew down just $370 as his share for forty-one rounds of fighting. Consequently Cross, who is accustomed to six round fights, in which he has made from $1,500 to $2,000, was disappointed.

The heavy fog and the easy fashion in which young Ernie was beaten on the night previous killed the attendance Saturday. There was just $1,800 in the house and as the men fought for 50 per cent. of the receipts, divided 60 and 40, the winner got only $550.

Ketchel, according to the latest reports from the Coast, will be a 2 to 1 favorite when he gets into the ring at Colma next Monday afternoon to fight Bill Papke for the middleweight championship of the world. Promoter Crawford is preparing for an immense crowd.
